Passenger Charter

Know your rights when you fly

February 2019

Fly Informed Reach Relaxed

Air travel is now a part of everyday life: many first-time fliers are now experiencing the ease and convenience of flying. At the Ministry of Civil Aviation, we strive to keep the system efficient, fair and approachable to provide you with a smooth experience: less than 0.1% of flyers face inconvenience in flying. However, sometimes things don't work out as planned. We believe that if you know your rights, as a passenger you can enjoy a more comfortable and a relaxing journey. This Passenger Charter brings to you rules and rights that apply to your air travel in an easy-to-understand format.

Disclaimer: For more details and specific rules, please refer to the Civil Aviation Requirements (CAR) Series M, Section-3 on the Directorate General Civil Aviation (DGCA) portal (www.dgca.nic.in) and other relevant laws and rules. This booklet is for general guidance and information only.

Flight delays

If you experience flight delay while traveling, your rights are as follows, depending on the scenario:

Scenario1:

You have checked-in on time, but the airline expects a delay of:

- A. 2 hours or more in case of flights having a block time* of up to 2 ½ hours
- B. 3 hours or more in case of flights having a block time* of more than 2 ½ hours and up to 5 hours, or
- C. 4 hours or more in case of flights not falling in the above two categories

Your Right:

You must be offered free-of-charge meals and refreshments, in relation to waiting time

Scenario2:

If your domestic flight is expected to be delayed by more than 6 hours:

Your Rights:

- A. rescheduled time should be communicated to you more than 24 hours prior to original scheduled departure time
- B. The airline shall offer an option of either an alternate flight within a period of 6 hours or full refund of ticket to you

Scenario3:

The airline experiences a delay in flight departure communicated more than 24 hours prior to its original scheduled time and if delay is more than 24 hours or more than 6 hours for flights scheduled to depart between 20:00 and 03:00 hours:

Your Right:

Free hotel accomodation

Flight cancellation

Airlines must inform you of the flight cancellation at least two weeks before the scheduled time of departure and arrange alternate flight or refund as acceptable to you.

Scenario1:

You are informed of the flight cancellation less than two weeks before but, up to 24 hours of the scheduled departure time

Your Right:

The airline must offer an alternate flight allowing you to depart or refund the ticket, as acceptable to you

Scenario2:

You are not informed as per the above provisions or have missed the connecting flight booked on the same ticket number

Your Rights:

The airline shall either provide alternate flight as acceptable by you or provide compensation, in addition to the full refund, as follows:

A. For flights having a block time of up to and including 1 hour, compensation of ₹ 5,000 or booked one-way basic fare plus airline fuel charge, whichever is less

B. For flights having a block time of more than 1 hour and up to and including 2 hours, compensation of ₹ 7,500 or booked one-way basic fare plus airline fuel charge, whichever is less

C. For flights having a block time of more than 2 hours, compensation of ₹ 10,000 or booked one-way basic fare plus airline fuel charge, whichever is less

Additionally:

A. If you have already reported for the original flight and while you wait for the alternate flight, the airline must provide free-of-charge meals and refreshments, in relation to waiting time

B. You must provide adequate contact information at the time of booking, or else, no financial compensation shall be payable

C. If the airline offers a flight to/from an airport or terminal other than that for which you had booked, the airline shall bear the cost of transferring you to/from that alternate airport or terminal from/to to the one for which you booked. If you have been informed of the change at least 6 hours in advance, you shall be responsible for making your own arrangements

Boarding denied due to over-booking

Over-booking is when the number of passengers, who have been given confirmed bookings for flight travel and have reported for the flight well-within the specified time ahead of flight departure, is more than the number of seats available. In such a situation, the airline must first ask for volunteers to give up their seats so as to make seats available for other booked passengers to travel on the flight, in exchange of such benefits as the airline, at its own discretion, may wish to offer and provided that concerned airports have dedicated check-in facilities/ gate areas which makes it practical for the airline to do so.

Scenario1:

An alternate flight scheduled to depart within one hour of the original scheduled departure time is arranged

Your Right:

You cannot hold the airline liable for any compensation for the missed original flight on which you were denied boarding due to over-booking

Scenario2:

The airline fails to arrange for an alternate flight scheduled to depart within one hour of the original scheduled departure time

Your Rights:

You must be compensated by the airline as per the following provisions:

A. Compensation equal to 200% of booked one-way basic fare plus airline fuel charge, subject to maximum of ₹ 10,000, if airline arranges an alternate flight scheduled to depart within 24 hours of the booked scheduled departure

B. Compensation equal to 400% of booked one-way basic fare plus airline fuel charge, subject to maximum of ₹ 20,000, if airline arranges an alternate flight scheduled to depart more than 24 hours of the booked scheduled departure

C. Refund of full-value of ticket and compensation equal to 400% of booked one-way basic fare plus airline fuel charge, subject to maximum of ₹ 20,000, if you do not opt for alternate flight

How long before you get your refund?

A. Immediately, if payment was made by cash
B. Within 7 days, if payment was made by credit card

C. From the travel agent, if payment was made through travel agent

Flight diversion

Your flight is diverted to different destination.

Concerned staff will communicate to all your queries and provide constant information

Your Rights:

A. If waiting time is more than two hours, the airline should make immediate arrangement to disembark at the nearest airport. Facilitation/refreshment should be provided during the waiting time

B. If waiting time is less than two hours at alternative airport, appropriate announcement for boarding to be made. Refreshment, water, tea/coffee to be provided

Cancellation charges

At the time of booking, make sure to check the ticket cancellation charges.

The airline must clearly indicate the amount of refund money admissible on cancellation of ticket. The amount and its break-up must be indicated on the ticket itself or through a separate form used for the purpose, and the policy and amount of refund shall also be displayed by the airlines on their respective websites.

Your Rights:

A. If you cancel the ticket, airlines must refund all statutory taxes and user development fee, airport development fee, passenger service fee to you. This shall also be applicable for all types of fares offered including promos/special fares and where the basic fare is non-refundable

C. If you are not satisfied with the resolution of grievance by airline and/or Airsewa, you can complain to any statutory body/court set up under relevant applicable laws

Force majeure

A. Airline will not have the obligation to pay compensation in cases where the delays and cancellations are caused by an event of force majeure i.e. extraordinary circumstances beyond the control of the airline, the impact of which lead to the delay of flights, and which could not have been avoided even if all reasonable measures had been taken by the airline. Such extraordinary circumstances may in particular, occur due to political instability, natural disaster, civil war, insurrection or riot, flood, explosion, government regulation or order affecting the aircraft, strikes and labor disputes causing cessation, slowdown or interruption of work or any other factors that are beyond the control of the airline

B. Additionally, airline will also not be liable to pay any compensation in respect of delay clearly attributable to air traffic control, meteorological conditions, security risks, or any other causes that are beyond the control of the airline but which affect their ability to operate flights on schedule. Extraordinary circumstances should be deemed to exist where the impact of an air traffic management decision in relation to a particular aircraft or several aircrafts on a particular day, gives rise to a long delay or delays, an overnight delay, or the cancellation of one or more flights by that aircraft, and which could not be avoided even though the airline concerned had taken all reasonable measures to avoid or overcome the impact of the relevant factor and, therefore, the delays
